Conversation with Kehoe

"Communities across the state have been severely impacted by flooding and tornadoes this last week. In light of these events, I have never been more proud to be a Missourian, as I have witnessed citizens across the state ready and willing to assist at a moment's notice.

I have seen homes and businesses demolished one day, and being rebuilt the next. We have a long way to go but I know that Missourians, strengthened in their faith and in one another, are stronger than any storm that passes through."

Michael Kehoe
